

*"My career started in
The City or to be more accurate, in a pub in Liverpool called the Carousel"*

This is a collection of stories that range from the perils of being sent to boarding school through working on cruise ships to a sales career in 'The City'.

We start with a true story about how a very ordinary student set off from Liverpool for London equipped only with a Ford Cortina and a sleeping bag and ended up working in the lower reaches of 'The Square Mile' – the financial world that is 'The City'

Not so much 'Sex in The City' but 'Sales in The City' and the less glamorous but hilarious world of financial sales in the last decades of the twentieth century.

"I finished the `taster` of your book, it's gripping to say the least! When can I have the next instalment?" - TAH

"Just to let you know I thoroughly enjoyed this...it was amazing" - JY

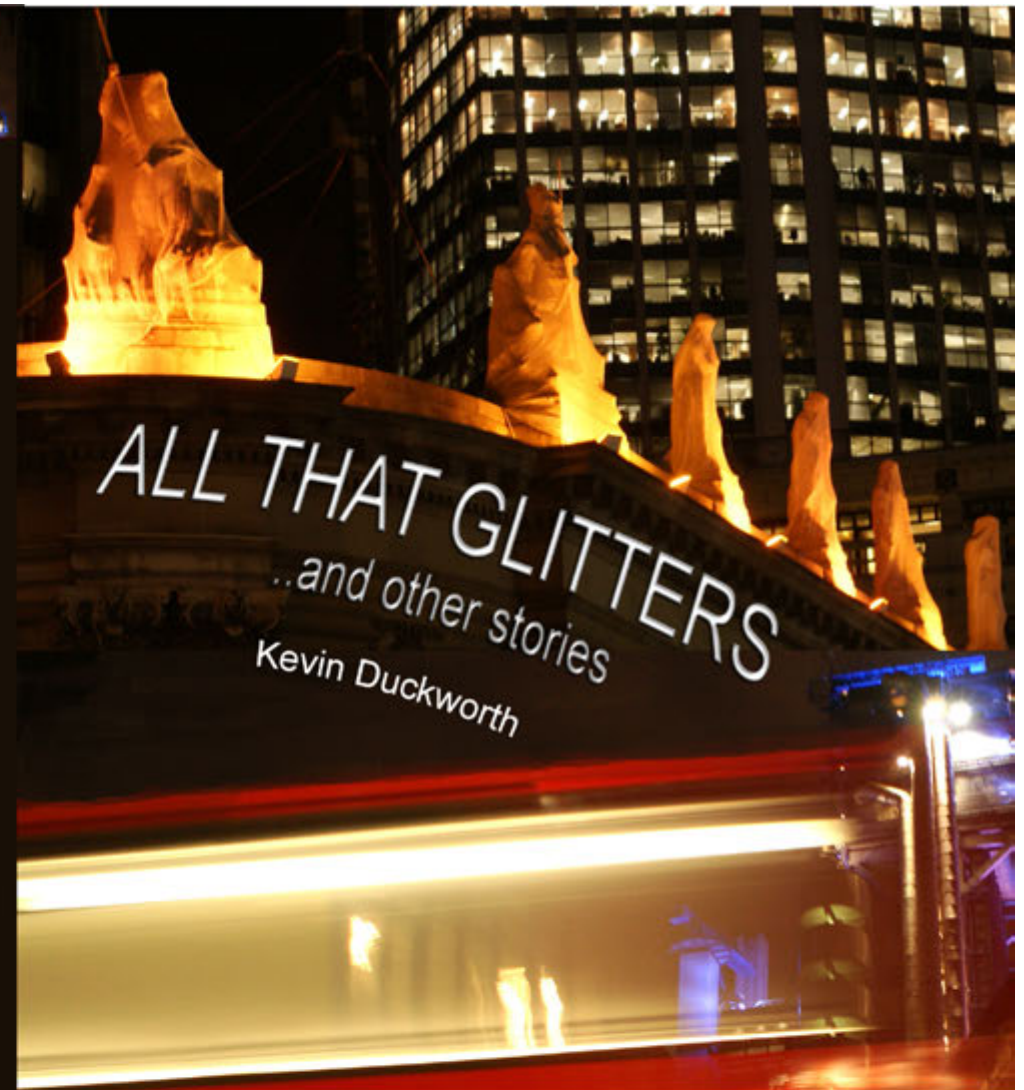

Anyone who has been 'thrown in the deep end' will love this story and those that follow.

You will not find too many Lear jets in these stories and champagne is not the normal tippie.

What you will find, however, is a rich vein of comic characters and events that will literally make you laugh out loud. Not everyone who worked in the financial world that is 'The City' is a tycoon and if you wondered how an ordinary chap got on in some very strange environments, then read these stories. They will put a smile on your face for sure.
